Kentucky Personnel Cabinet

EEO Diversity & Inclusion Conference

The EEO Diversity and Leadership Conference is Kentucky's premier conference for human resources professionals and employment law attorneys, advancing the HR profession by offering professional development and continuing education credits on behalf of SHRM, IPMA-HR, the Kentucky Bar Association and the Kentucky Personnel Cabinet. The professional development tracts include programming in the areas of human resources, equal employment opportunity, diversity and inclusion, disabilities and ADA, leadership and contract compliance.

The conference celebrates and strengthens investment in a diverse workforce. Kentucky's efforts to involve private sector partners in these conversations has been rewarding and has provided a national-level conference at a cost of only $100 - $125 to attend the two-day event. The conference is self-sustaining with registration fees.

The size of Kentucky's conference has more than tripled in the last three years to more than 700 attendees in 2018. Featured speakers include the highest levels of state government along with representatives from large corporate entities, including Yum! Brands, Inc., Brown-Forman, Norton Healthcare, Humana, regional news media personalities and more.
