- The department was appropriated 1,173.7 FTE in FY 2008.
- The number of FTE has grown approximately $7 \%$ within the last four years with the biggest growth year in 2006.
- Despite this growth in FTE the number of HR professionals has stayed the same since FY 2003.

■ During FY 2003 one FTE was eliminated in the office of Human Resources (OHR) leaving OHR with only eight (8) FTE to perform the full ranges of services. Of these, three (3) are responsible for recruitment, selection, and job evaluation and employee relations.

- Industry standards recommend at least one HR professional per 100 employees. According to the Department of Personnel and Administration, Colorado's HR ratios average 0.87 HR staff per 100 employees. The current ratio of 8.0 HR staff is 0.68 .

- The number of request for referrals continues to increase substantially due to legislation, approved decision items and staff turnover.

Table 7 and Figure 13 demonstrates the amount of growth the Department has experienced with FY 2008 experiencing the biggest increase of $24 \%$ in the last five years. This increase is exacerbated by the requirement that HR is now conducting criminal background checks on new hires.

The department still primarily fills position with individuals (232) outside the State personnel system as well as the department. This is referred to as "Outside Hires" in Figure 14 and Table 8. The department filled 43 vacant positions with internal candidates and processed 127 promotions through reallocations. This is referred to as "Internal Hires."

Speed Of Selection

Back to Table of Contents

- The number of days it takes to fill a position from the time OHR receives the request for referral (RFR) to the actual referral was 65 days for open competitive exams.
- This is a significant increase over the last three years.
- This increase is attributed to increase in the number of positions received from legislation, decision items and staff turnover exacerbated with internal HR staff turnover.

■ Comparatively the department's turn around time is higher than the State average.
■ However, after further inquiry it was discovered that the other agencies fill multiple positions from one eligible list whereas this department announces and develops customized selection process a vast majority of the time.

- However the department did fill 33 positions utilizing existing lists, which only took 39 days to fill from the time OHR, received the RFR to the actual referral.
■ OHR tested and communicated with approximately 4500 applicants averaging 29 applicants per exam. The number of applicants per exam varied ranging from 100 applicants per test to two applicants.

Quality of Selection

A good measure of quality of selection is looking at Performance ratings of new hires in their second year. There fore, the quality of new hires (only looking at performance ratings) for FY 2008 can be ascertained after ratings are obtained in April of 2009.

- However, amongst the 94 new hires of FY 2007, 25 employees have achieved the Level 3 rating and 68 employees are at Level 2 and only 1 employee has received a Level 1 rating.

- Turnover rates by division were: Admin (11.6\%), APCD (6.09\%), CHEIS/ITS (10.41 \%), CPD (16.60\%), DCEED (12.88\%), HF/EMS (6.29\%) HMWM (10.74\%), LSD (10.3\%), PSD (12.18\%) and WQCD at (10.20\%).

■ Figure 25 depicts the relationship between division workforce and respective turnover rates.

TURNOVER BY PERFORMANCE RATING

- Turnover category was also investigated in light of performance rating during the last evaluation.
- Those employees earning a rating of 1 during their last performance evaluation were present in 3 out of the 7 categories for reasons for leaving.
- Percent of those earning a level one by category are: Administrative Discharge (100\%), Resigned (8 \%) and Terminated (40\%).
- Conversely of those who resigned $8 \%$ had performance ratings of 4 , of those who retired, $6.8 \%$ earned a level 4 and of those that chose to transfer out, $14.28 \%$ earned a level 4.

This section presents an analysis of employee performance evaluation ratings in CDPHE for the year 2007 2008. The performance evaluations included in this analysis totaled 1148 ( $\mathrm{N}=1148$ ). Demographical characteristics of CDPHE include only those employees who were evaluated for their performance.

Performance Evaluations 2007-2008: Change in rating Scale

This year employee performance evaluations were determined using a three (3) point scale. The Levels of performance are defined as follows:

Level 3 (Exceptional)

This rating represents consistently exceptional and documented performance or consistently superior achievement beyond the regular assignment. Employees make exceptional contribution(s) that have a significant and positive impact on the performance of the unit or the organization and may materially advance the mission of the organization. The employee provides a model for excellence and helps others to do their jobs better. Peers, immediate supervision, higher-level management and others can readily recognize such a level of performance.

Level 2 (Successful)

This rating level encompasses a range of expected performance. It includes employees who are successfully developing in the job, employees who exhibit competency in work behaviors, skills, and assignments, and accomplished performers who consistently exhibit the desired competencies effectively and independently. These employees are meeting all the expectations, standards, requirements, and objectives on their performance plan and, on occasion, exceed them. This is the employee who reliably performs the job assigned and may even have a documented impact beyond the regular assignments and performance objectives that directly supports the mission of the organization.

Level 1 (Needs Improvement)

This rating level encompasses those employees whose performance does not consistently and independently meet expectations set forth in the performance plan as well as those employees whose performance is clearly unsatisfactory and consistently fails to meet requirements and expectations. Marginal performance requires substantial monitoring and close supervision to ensure progression toward a level of performance that meets expectations. Although these employees are not currently meeting expectations, they may be progressing satisfactorily toward a level 2 rating and need coaching/direction in order to satisfy the core expectations of the position.

| :--- | ---: | ---: |
| Level 1 | 23 | 2 |
| Level 2 | 844 | 74 |

- While majority of employees are at Level 2 (Successful), $24 \%$ of the total employees have been rated at Level 3 (Exceptional) and 2\% at Level 1 (Need improvement).

Is there a relationship between employee ethnicity and performance ratings?

A chi-square test of independence was performed to examine the relation between ethnicity and Performance ratings. The relation between these variables was significant, $X 2(8, N=1147)=32.08, p<01$.

Rater - Ratee Interaction

Considering the interaction between ethnicities of supervisors and the employees, data was categorized in 4 groups.

- Supervisor and Employee belong to Minority (other than "White")
- Supervisor belongs to Minority and Employee is "White"
- Supervisor is "White" and Employee belongs to "Minority" ethnicity
- Supervisor and employee are "White"

The Chi-square test of independence revealed that there is a significant relationship between the category of relationship of the ethnicities between supervisor and employee and the employee's performance rating, X2 $(6, N=1147)=23.0, p<.001$.

Additionally, looking at percentages of total employees rated at a particular levels for each relationship, it is evident that "White" supervisors have more often rated "White" employees a Level 3 than they have rated employees belonging to a "minority" ethnicity. Also, only $1 \%$ of employees falling into "White supervisor, White employee" relationship have a Level 1, versus $5 \%$ of employees falling into "White supervisor, Minority employee" relationship.

Conversely, in the case of supervisors belonging to minority ethnicities, they have rated employees also from minorities' ethnicities for $6 \%$ of total Level 1 ratings in comparison to $2 \%$ for "White" subordinates.

Fiscal year 2007-2008 is the first year of a Threepoint rating. Thus for purposes of comparison with performance ratings of last three fiscal years, levels 2 and Levels 3 for years 2006 and 2007 have been clubbed into Level 2

Comparisons for each division are presented below.
Please note the following:

1) CHEIS includes ratings for ITS
2) DCEED includes ratings for EPRD
3) Percentages for SPCD (2008) do not add up to 100, because of missing ratings for 4 employees

COMPENSATION

A compa-ratio analysis provides an employer with a benchmark to determine how close actual pay rates compare to the company-defined midpoint of a pay range; it is the average of employee actual pay divided by the range midpoint. The midpoint is used in compensation analysis to compare against the current market rate, in determining the competitiveness of a pay rate. Using compa-ratios will help to identify or establish and monitor an overall pay philosophy, which may then be used for staffing and budget plans. A standard pay range has a spread of about $40 \%$ between the minimum and the maximum (the minimum and maximum are $20 \%$ below and above the mid-point, respectively).

The information provided below shows the average compa-ratio for some of the highest-occupied positions in the 2007-2008 fiscal year, along with the average years of service of the incumbents. The average comparatio for the overall Department is $\mathbf{1 0 2 \%}$, which means employees were paid $\mathbf{2 \%}$ above the mid-range (market rate), on average. The average years of service by Department employees during the fiscal year was 9.6 years.

The class with the highest compa-ratio is Program Assistant I, at 108\%. This class also has the highest tenure of the five classes, at $\mathbf{1 0 . 9}$ years of service.

The class with the lowest compa-ratio is the Health Professional III class, at 94\% of the mid-range, and also has the lowest average years of service, at 3.7 years. Employees in the Environmental Protection Specialist II, General Professional III, and General Professional IV classes were all paid within 4\% of the mid-range, but ranged in years of service from 6.3 years to 9.9 years.

The information below shows the average compa-ratios for employees who were hired within the last 2 years. On average, employees were hired within 5\% of the mid-range (or market rate) during the 2007-2008 fiscal year.

The information below shows the entire pay range for the class, and the pay rates for employees who were hired within the last 2 years. Also shown is the compa-ratio for the class, compared to the Department average, which was 95\%.

- Similar to previous years, PSD (34\%) and DCEED ( $25 \%$ ) produce the most personal service agreements.
